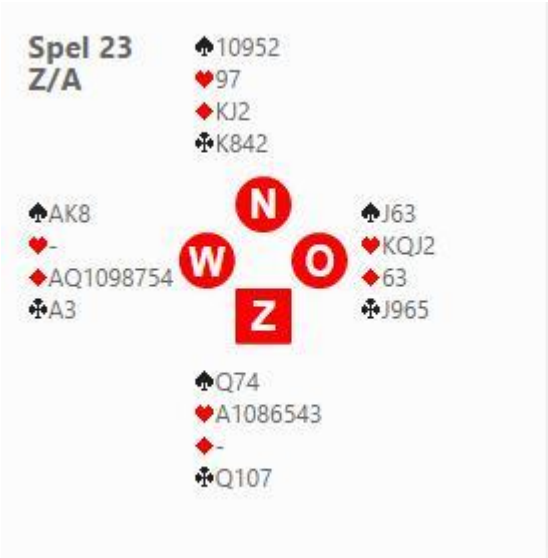
In many matches lots of imps swung around, and these seven and eight card suits were a rich source of points, especially against dinner time when juniors usually are very hungry. Mark, the new cook in Het Witte Huis, established Monday at dinner that many juniors came to fill their board for the third time. The dish with fine gamba's was delicious. In the Netherlands when we had training sessions in Twee Klaveren, the most asked question was: "When are we going to eat?".

1:



Really 6♦ got a lot of sympathy of his teammates, only not the result when North had an easy double.

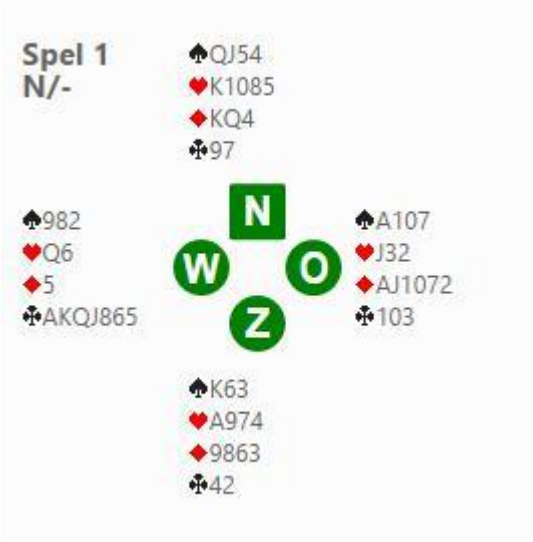
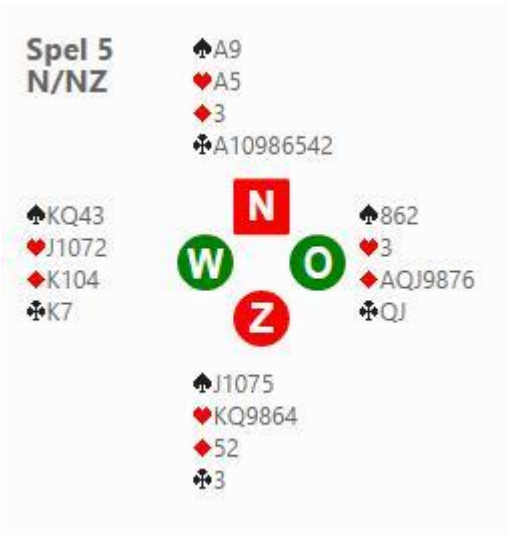
2:



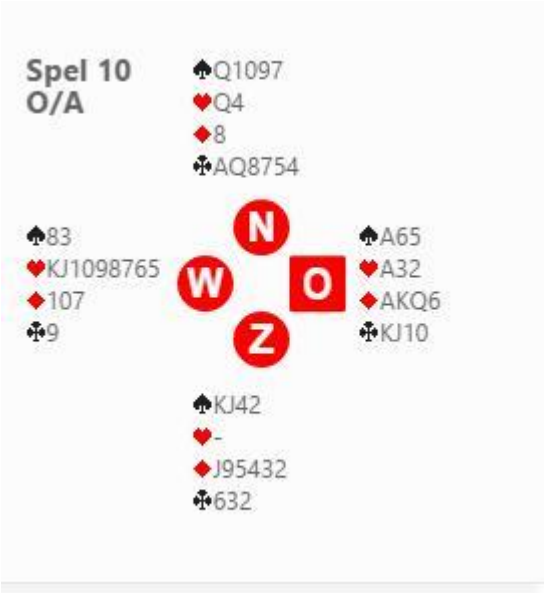
Well 4♣ will lift you over 3NT, so 2♣ is recommended and maybe East will try for game.

3:



You better double 5♦ and take 300 or 500, 5♥ is too high.

4:



If you have a mechanism like 4♦ to show a long heart suit with slam interest you will propel East into the cold slam.
